

The Right Foot

If we're going to predict where the students will finish - it's important to know where they are starting. A great tool to get you off on the right foot is GoToLearn's Diagnostic Plus.

First - Diagnostic Plus can help you to identify the students' strengths and weaknesses. This knowledge is crucial to creating lesson plans and differentiated learning strategies.

Next, Diagnostic Plus can be used as an instructional tool either in a classroom setting and/ or a tutoring environment.

Finally, Diagnostic Plus will keep track of progress for each student, class, teacher, or campus.

Nearly every school that used Diagnostic Plus last year increased their rating. Let us help you increase yours.

Language is an Art

The soldier decided to desert his dessert in the desert.

The girl was too close to the door to close it.

I shed a tear when I saw the tear in the painting.

The wind was too strong to wind the sail.

Teaching Tip

There is a lot of talk about rigor and what we need to achieve appropriate level(s) of rigor. There are quite a few opinions about the definition of rigor, but most agree that it includes multi-step, high level thinking skills.

Don't forget that a high level of rigor requires multiple entry points and multiple engagement points. If you don't have multiple entry points (i.e., questions with a variety of skill levels), you don't have rigor.

It's not just the students that say funny things. The following are notes, written by parents, to explain their child's absence.

My son is under a doctor's care and should not take P.E. today. Please execute him.

Please excuse Lisa for being absent. She was sick and I had her shot.

Dear School: Please excuse John being absent on Jan. 28, 29, 30, 31,32, and also 33.

Megan could not come to school today because she has been bothered by very close veins.

Please excuse Ray Friday from school. He has very loose vowels.

Please excuse Tommy for being absent yesterday. He had diarrhea and his boots leak.
